

AMICAL Institutional Cooperation and the Global Liberal Arts

American University of Paris
Al-Akhawayn University

A collaborative project between faculty and librarians at AUP and AUI in Fall 2022 as part of the First Year Experience at AUP and the core curriculum at AUI with input on information literacy, data management (content creation), the future of teaching and learning through collaborative initiatives with global impact as an international project between AMICAL institutions in Europe and the Arab World

David Tresilian
American University of Paris
Modern to Contemporary in the Arab World

Paul Love
Al-Akhawayn University
History of the Arab World

STUDENTS AT AUP

Students from AUP and AUI worked on material read in class and on images gathered from field trips in the Paris region and Morocco

STUDENTS AT AUI

Focus groups were held by video-conference and presentations created as part of a research project aiming at new data creation

INFORMATION LITERACY / DIGITAL TOOLS

Michael Stoepel, User Services Librarian at AUP, organized student-led interviews, providing guidance on research ethics, data-management, and data-visualization. Hajar Matlaoui, Librarian at the Mohamed VI Library at AUI, provided support at AUI.

SUPPORT FROM AMICAL AND THE GLCA

The project benefited from membership of the AMICAL Digital Collaborations Cohort and the GLCA Global Course Connections Program, bringing together courses in the US and throughout the world.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Paul Love, Michael Stoepel, David Tresilian, Student-Led, Cross-Institutional Collaboration between France and Morocco (Academic Libraries and Collaborative Research Services, Rowman & Littlefield, 2022).